

Bereshith

(1973-2019)

To listen or download this “Demo” in progress, being Part I of a Two-Part Song, left click on book cover below
(scroll past the book cover for lyrics)

The Ecology Of Imagination In Childhood
(Written by Edith Cobb from 1959-1977)

Come Equinox and April rain
The Green Uprising uprises again
We plant those seeds that grow our souls together
Barking dogs and river rush
Peeping frogs and hermit thrush
All welcome winter's thaw

Come meet the park ranger, an old singing stranger
They call him "Tom Bombadil"
His Evergreen Shrine grows on Blueberry Hill

Come Plant your Garden in the Forest of Arden
Where all the World's a Stage
This Bluegreen Earth brings our New World Age

A Rebirth, a Renaissance Genesis rises up into view
And returns "In The Beginning" to you

Bereshith
To you
Bereshith
To you
Bereshith

© Young Deer Enterprises. All Rights Reserved.